

Season's Greetings, Earthlings and Book Lovers!

This winter, we're taking reading out of this world with our groovy new challenge: Winter Reading is Far Out! Get ready to blast off into the galaxy of great books, where the adventure is cosmic and the prizes are stellar! We've kept it simple—no events to attend, no secret codes to enter. Just cozy up with a good book and track the time you spend reading!

 Lift Off on December 1st: Registration opens, and you can start logging your reading time right away. Visit our website to get started!

 Read, Read, Read: Whether it's science fiction, space-themed comics, or your favorite audiobook about little green aliens, it all counts! Log every minute of your reading journey.

 Enter to Win: For every hour you read, you'll earn tickets to enter into our prize buckets. With amazing gift cards and far-out prizes, you won't want to miss your chance. The final day to log your reading and enter your tickets is February 1st.

It's time to tune in, turn the page, and blast off into a galaxy of good reads. Whether you're into funky fiction, spacey stories, or just hanging with a book from another dimension, we've got a challenge that's out of this world! The more you read, the better your chances. So grab your favorite blanket, find a comfy spot, and dive into the universe waiting for you inside those pages. We can't wait to see what you discover!

Stay groovy, readers,
